Through conscious beings the universe has generated self-awareness. Thanks for telling us about the problem. Scientists such as Roger Bacon and, later, Galileo Galilei stressed the importance of obtaining knowledge through precise, quantitative experiment and observation. Of course, this remains a theory and although a lot of research has been made in it. Yet these same simple laws permit matter and energy to self-organize into an enormous variety of complex states, including those that have the quality of consciousness, and can in turn reflect upon the very cosmic order that has produced. However successful our scientific explanations may be, they always have certain starting points. The Mind of God built in... sooner or later we all have to accept something as given, whether it is god, or logic, or a set of laws, or some other foundation for existence.
