I believe we have often overlooked the power of God so readily available to us just as the missionary overlooked the key to starting his car. Paul portrays the Christian as a holy temple unto the Lord, built as a habitation of God through the Holy Spirit. There was sharp contention between them over the matter and so they split up.

So they ordered them to withdraw from the Sanhedrin and then conferred. The next morning Paul and Silas refused to leave the prison like they were common criminals. Paul's purpose in writing this epistle was to thank the Philippians for the gift they had sent to him while he was under house-arrest in Rome, and their care for .

This was the poison of the serpent, which has permeated humanity ever since. It reminds Christians in every age of His all-sufficiency. Maybe the knowledge that he was a cut above average, but not in the genius category, would have influenced what he tried to achieve.
