Encountering Christ in the Media is way out front of the newest gizmo—and will stay there—thanks to its timeless principles that can be applied in all digital terrain, now and the future. The priests, bishops, religious, and laity of the future will be comfortable using new media.

One of the good problems about the Church is that she has a lot to say about a lot of things.

I realized that Mother Church was doing the same thing with us! In fact I could see catechists and educators using this book with high school students or adults as part of a media literacy curriculum. And when they take this to heart, the results are exhilarating and rewarding!

This is good because the Church is concerned with many things and bringstobe a part of the CARA study, in a certain way, the findings should come as no surprise. About Contact For Leaders.
